

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A non-linear optical material comprising a bismuth film is described. When a laser beam is conducted through the bismuth film, the bismuth film exhibits strong non-linear optical effects including non-linear refraction and non-linear absorption.